Membership status

Governing Members are entities responsible in whole or in part for the supervision of pension funds, plans, schemes or arrangements in a country or in the subdivision of a country.

Associate Members include:

1. any governmental authority including any international authority, that is responsible in whole or in part for pension regulation or the establishment of pension policy and that has an interest in pension supervision, and
2. solely at the invitation and discretion of the Executive Committee, any international governmental (or similar) organisation that has a direct, institutional interest in pension supervision.

Representatives

In the case of Governing Members, the official representative to IOPS must be the head of the supervisory authority. In the case of an integrated authority, the head of the unit most responsible for pension activities should be the official representative. Each Governing Member, however, may designate an individual who will act as its designated representative.

Associate Members must designate an official representative that will represent the Member at IOPS meetings and events. Each such official representative, however, may designate in writing an individual to act as their representative.

The IOPS membership fee for 2017 is levied in three bands according to the stage of economic development. The bands are based on the World Bank's country classification (using per capita gross national income – see annex). Fees for Observers are the full €8,250.

- Most development economies €8,250
- Mid tier economies €5,500
