Foreword

The International Organisation of Pension Supervisors (IOPS) is an independent international body representing institutions involved in the supervision of private pension arrangements. The Organisation currently has over 70 Members and observers representing supervisory bodies from around 60 countries and territories worldwide - from Australia to Zambia - covering all levels of economic development and bringing together all types of pension and supervisory systems.

The IOPS was formed in July 2004 at the instigation of the International Network of Pension Regulators (INPRS), an informal network of regulators and supervisors. It was felt that, concerning supervision, a more formal, independent, body could better serve as a world-wide forum for policy dialogue and the exchange of information, as well as the standard setting body, promoting good practices in pension supervision. The major goal of the IOPS is to improve the quality and effectiveness of the supervision of private pension systems throughout the world, thereby enhancing their development and operational efficiency, and allowing for the provision of a secure source of retirement income in as many countries as possible.

The aims and purposes of IOPS can be summarised as:

- serving as the standard-setting body on pension supervisory matters (and regulatory issues related to pension supervision), taking into account the variety of different private pension systems;*
- promoting international co-operation on pension supervision and facilitating contact between pension supervisors and other relevant parties, including policy makers, researchers and the private sector;*
- providing a worldwide forum for policy dialogue and exchange of information on pension supervision;*
- participating in the work of relevant international bodies in the area of pensions, including joint activities to improve statistical collection and analysis;*
- promoting, conducting and facilitating the distribution and communication of research, and collecting information in co-operation with relevant international bodies.*

Report from the President of IOPS

HIGHLIGHTS

2011 has proved to be a highly 'practical' year for IOPS. After launching the IOPS Toolkit for Risk-based Supervision in 2010, the IOPS has held a series of very successful workshops demonstrating how this innovative technique is used in practice. I would like to thank all of those that took part, and, in particular, our hosting authorities for their initiative in requesting such events. Having taken part in these workshops myself, I can report that participants appreciate this outreach work undertaken by the IOPS and the opportunity to engage with and learn from the experience of their counterparts around the world.

Continuing on the practical note, during 2011, IOPS Members have continued to provide self assessments on how the IOPS Principles of Private Pension Supervision apply in their countries. These self assessments have highlighted interesting strengths and gaps in supervisory processes around the world. IOPS will develop further work to address these issues in the future. Our Principles and the various guidelines developed by IOPS also continue to gain recognition with other international bodies.

Following the successful training organised by APRA back-to-back with the AGM and conference in Sydney in 2010, the IOPS introduced a practical element to this year's workshop in Peru and meeting in Cape Town, working through a case study of a theoretical pension supervisory case. We will endeavour to work such operational training and learning by example into future events.

Finally, IOPS has gone multimedia this year! At the beginning of 2011, IOPS launched a Facebook page and a 'Clearspace' on-line discussion group to regularly share private pension industry developments, and supervisory news, and events. We would encourage all IOPS Members and interested parties to join these interactive groups. We also continue to build our on-line video library of interviews with IOPS Members and experts. In addition, we have added many examples of financial education campaigns relating to pensions from around the world, which we hope that you will find useful.

MEMBERS

The IOPS has maintained its Membership base during 2011, which consists of around 70 Members and observers. New Members joining during the year include the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority, the Superintendencia Financiera de Colombia, the Social Security Regulatory Authority of Tanzania, the Central Bank of Armenia and the Capital Market and Financial Institutions Supervisory Agency of Indonesia.

Our goal for 2012 is to extend our contacts thereby identifying potential new Members. A range of pension supervisory authorities continue to express interest in our Organisation. We would be delighted to welcome these and other interested parties as Members of our Organisation and we will work with such countries to see if their valuable input into our work can be achieved.

The IOPS is very grateful to its Members who have encouraged other pension supervisory authorities to join the Organisation – indeed our best source of recruitment is through our membership. I would therefore like to encourage all Members to get in touch with their contacts in their regions and help work towards our goal of extending our coverage during 2012.

Ross Jones President of IOPS

Report by the Chair of the Technical Committee

Solange Berstein

Chair of the IOPS Technical Committee

The IOPS continued to build a substantial body of work during 2011, creating a busy year and full meeting agendas for the Technical Committee. Once again, the work of the Organisation was led by its Members and I would like particularly to thank those who drafted, edited and supplied input for the Working Papers released this year.

I would like to encourage any Members who have not yet joined a project team to do so. Contributions from all different types of pension and supervisory systems, in whatever stage of development, are always of interest to the Membership and can contribute greatly to the research and understanding to which our projects aspire.

Interesting presentations were given by Members during the Technical Committee meetings on developments in their pension systems and supervisory approaches. Notably, a very fruitful session was held on the 'Twin Peaks' model of supervision at the Technical Committee meeting in Jordan. Mr. Michael Taylor, an expert and lead speaker on the topic, updated Delegates on global developments and implications for the pensions sector. The Tour d'Horizon has proved an enlightening part of the meetings, which we shall continue in future. Again, delegations who would like to present interesting aspects of their supervisory approach to other Members are encouraged to do so.

PROGRAMME OF WORK (POW) 2010-2011

PRINCIPLES AND GUIDELINES

- IOPS/OECD Good Practices on Pension Funds' Use of Alternative Investment and Derivatives:

In 2011, following the 2010 "stock take" on regulations, market practice and risk-management of alternative investments by pension funds in IOPS and OECD countries, IOPS and OECD Members agreed to jointly revise the Good Practices in the Risk Management of Alternative Investments by Pension Funds (which were approved by the IOPS in 2007), drawing on lessons from the stock taking exercise and subsequent IOPS and OECD work on risk-management and asset management.

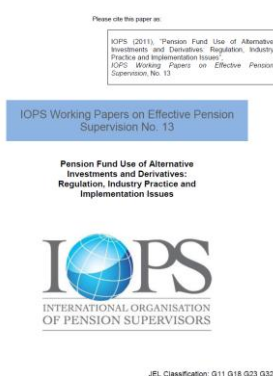

The Governing Members approved at the 2011 AGM in South Africa the IOPS/OECD Good Practices on Pension Funds' Use of Alternative Investment and Derivatives and recommended the Good Practices to be presented at the next meeting of the OECD Working Party on Private Pensions for approval and publishing.

RESEARCH AND PUBLICATIONS

During 2011, the IOPS continued to ensure that the work of its Members reached a broader audience. The Organisation and its Members have been pleased to respond to requests for information and research from a variety of sources.

Two Working Papers were released during 2011. The papers highlight a range of challenges to be met in the development of national pension supervisory systems. The IOPS Working Paper series reviews the nature and effectiveness of new and established pension supervisory systems, providing examples, experiences and lessons learnt for the benefit of IOPS Members and the broader pension community. Abstracts of the three papers issued this year are included below. The IOPS welcomes submissions for the Working Paper series. Members who have papers covering relevant issues and who are interested in submitting them for inclusion in the series should contact the IOPS Secretariat.

IOPS Working Papers present preliminary results and analysis, are often developed with the input and assistance of the Technical Committee Members, and are circulated to encourage discussion and comment. They represent the views of the authors and may not represent the opinion of the IOPS Members as a whole.

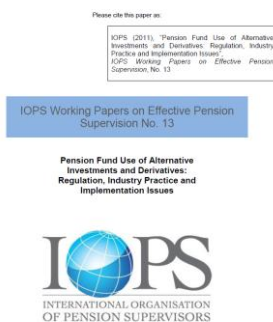

WORKING PAPER NO. 13: Pension Fund Use of Alternative Investments and Derivatives: Regulation, Industry Practice and Implementation Issues

The financial and economic crisis had a profound impact on the financial position of pension funds in most countries. Whilst the magnitude of these losses is primarily related to the severity of the crisis, it appears that shortcomings in the implementation of investment strategies significantly amplified the deterioration of the financial position of some pension funds. In particular, many pension funds have increasingly invested in alternative investment categories and complex products in recent years. Subsequently, the financial and economic crisis heightened the concern of pension regulatory and supervisory authorities regarding pension funds' use of alternative investments and derivatives.

This paper is divided into five main sections. The first section reviews the regulation in place which aims to manage the potential risk exposures that alternative investments and derivatives present. This provides a useful backdrop for then evaluating the current market practices of pension funds' investment in such instruments. The second section canvasses the implementation issues that a number of pension funds have faced in attempting to implement their investment strategies with the inclusion of alternative and derivative instruments. The third section highlights the potential risks that pension funds face when investing in alternative investments and derivatives, followed by the fourth section reviewing current risk management practices observed by pension funds in managing these risk exposures. The paper finally concludes with observations which can be translated into lessons for consideration by supervisory authorities when developing future pension fund regulation and supervision practices of alternative investments and the use of derivatives

WORKING PAPER NO. 15: Comparative Information Provided by Pension Supervisory Authorities

JEL Classification: G11 G18 G23 G32

The provision of information on pensions is of increasing importance as pension assets are growing and defined contribution (DC) pensions are becoming more dominant.

Though information on the pension system as a whole and on individual pension funds and providers is available from a wide range of sources, in many IOPS member countries the pension supervisory authority plays an important role as a provider of objective, comparable information, acting as a disinterested, comprehensive and authoritative source.

This paper aims to update previous IOPS work by looking in more detail at the role pension supervisory authorities can play in providing information – particularly comparative information on performance, costs and quality of service. It concludes by drawing on lessons learnt from the experience of IOPS Members.

In addition to the Working Papers above, an Information Paper was released on Pension Supervisory Authorities and Financial Education.

This Information Paper has been released on the IOPS website, along with supporting materials, such as videos of financial education campaigns in Chile, Israel and Turkey. The Information Paper page will be updated with further materials as IOPS Members' financial education campaigns develop.

Information papers can be accessed on the IOPS website:

http://www.iopsweb.org/document/34/0,3746,en_35030657_35030420_49009442_1_1_1_1,00.html

INFORMATION PAPER NO. 1: Pension Supervisory Authorities and Financial Education: Lessons Learnt

This paper aims to update previous IOPS work by looking in more detail at campaigns run by pension supervisory authorities and attempts to draw some 'lessons learnt' from these.

The paper is structured as follows: Section I looks at the information campaigns which IOPS Members provided during the financial crisis, whilst Section II describes some innovative, on-going financial education programmes run pension supervisory authorities. Section III concludes with some lessons learnt from the previous and current work of the IOPS, as well as drawing on the on-going work on the OECD's project on financial education.¹

- Experiences of Social Pension in Viet Nam (2001-2009)

- Report on Outsourcing by IORPS, CEIOPS

PROJECTS

In addition to the projects outlined above, which were completed during 2011 and issued as publications, the IOPS continued work on the following projects during 2011, which are expected to reach completion during the coming years:

- Supervisory oversight of pension intermediaries: The goal of the project is first to establish how pensions are distributed in different IOPS member countries, and how pension intermediaries involved in the advice and sales process are regulated and supervised. The project will identify common problems encountered by IOPS Members, and look at different regulatory mechanisms and supervisory tools which have been used to address these issues.
- Structure and Organisation of Pension Supervisory Authorities: the issue of how pension supervisory authorities may be structured in order to execute their functions most efficiently and effectively has often been raised, for example at discussions surrounding the development of the IOPS Toolkit for Risk-based Supervision and at various IOPS workshops. The topic of how to organise financial supervision in general is also high on the agenda of policy makers in several countries, following the financial and economic crisis of recent years and perceived failings in the oversight of financial systems. This paper will gather and summarize the information touching on this subject which has already been produced by the Organisation in relation to various project and working papers and the Toolkit. As well as being of practical use to IOPS Members, this paper may prove useful to the wider financial community and could be used to promote the work of the IOPS within other international forum.

OTHER

Further information is being added regularly to the IOPS Toolkit website. In 2011, CONSAR of Mexico provided a case study to be uploaded. Our Latin American colleagues at the AIOS are also planning to translate the Toolkit into Spanish.

Mexico Risk-based Supervision Case Study available on www.iopstoolkit.org/casestudies

Work on updating the joint ISSA/IOPS/OECD regulatory database continued during 2011 – with IOPS/OECD Secretariat taking over responsibility for updating and extending the content of the complementary private pension database, which continues to be hosted by the ISSA. A broad range of IOPS Members provide statistical information for the OECD Global Pension Statistics Project, with statistical data on the pension systems of IOPS Members now available via the IOPS website. Selected statistics for IOPS Members are also available via the OECD's Pensions Markets in Focus publication.

OECD Pension Markets in Focus - available via www.oecd.org/daf/pensions/pensionsmarkets

Overviews of the pension systems in almost all IOPS Member countries are being drafted and are also available on the website, and a research section has been added, providing background information and papers by research topic and by country. Members are invited to provide recent reports on their pension systems for inclusion in the research database.

The on-line video library has also been further developed with additional interviews with Technical Committee Members, and experts, and a section dedicated to financial education campaigns relating to pensions from around the world.

Report of the Secretariat

André Laboul

Secretary General of IOPS

The IOPS Secretariat provided a wide range of support to the IOPS membership during the year. In addition to supporting the membership base, servicing the Executives and organising meetings, the Secretariat has, on the request of the Executive Committee, continued in an increased analytical role, which will be developed further in the coming years. In addition to drafting papers and guidelines, increased editorial and analytical support was provided to project teams, which resulted in the publication of further papers in the IOPS Working Paper series.

In 2011 IOPS received a secondee provided by a member country for the first time. I would like to thank APRA for their generous and kind support of the Organisation. The practical supervisory experience of the secondee proved highly valuable for the Secretariat. I hope that such an arrangement can be repeated in the future.

Taliya Cikoja, IOPS Secondee provided by APRA

MAIN TASKS COMPLETED DURING 2011

DOCUMENTS

The Secretariat drafted two Working Papers, Working Paper No. 15: Comparative Information Provided by Pension Supervisory Authorities and Information Paper No. 1: Pension Supervisory Authorities and Financial Education: Lessons Learnt. The Secretariat also worked with project leaders The Netherlands and Germany on the third Working Paper: Working Paper No. 13: Pension Funds' Use of Alternative Investments and Derivatives: Regulation, Industry Practice and Implementation Issues.

The joint 'IOPS/OECD Good Practices on Pension Funds' Use of Alternative Investments and Derivatives' were completed, including input from a public consultation, and were approved by IOPS Governing Members at the 2011 Annual General Meeting.

The Secretariat is leading the on-going work on supervisory structures and intermediaries.

As with the Global Forum held in previous years, the papers presented at the 2011 event in Cape Town, have been collected and will be released as a publication in 2012.

The Secretariat was closely involved with and assisted the work of various other project teams, helping to fulfill the intended 2010-2011 Programme of Work of the organization. The Secretariat further assisted in the collection and dissemination of documents for other IOPS projects undertaken during 2011.

Building of the on-line electronic research library continued during 2011 – extended by a series of video interviews on relevant supervisory topics. The library includes country profiles describing the main features of public and private pension systems in individual IOPS Members' jurisdictions and internationally comparative statistics for the vast majority of the IOPS membership. The IOPS Secretariat, along with our OECD colleagues, has also taken on the role of updating and extending the joint ISSA/OECD/IOPS complementary private pension database.

Finally, the Secretariat coordinated the production of numerous other documents, including through continued assistance to the Executive and Technical Committees in the preparation of the agendas for the Committee meetings, the updated Programme of Work, the Annual Budget of the Organisation, President's and other reports, including the IOPS 2011 Annual Report.

MEETINGS

The Secretariat played a key role in the organisation of the OECD/ IOPS Global Forum on Private Pensions held in Cape Town, South Africa in October – with thanks to the Financial Services Board of South Africa for their assistance. Marketing of the conference by the Secretariat helped to ensure that this annual event continued to attract a wide ranging audience, and raised interest from potential new Members in the African region.

Ross Jones, IOPS President and Mr. Rintaro Tamaki, Deputy Secretary-General, OECD

The Secretariat also organised the IOPS outreach events in the MENA region, the sub-Saharan African region and also the Latin American region. IOPS regional Members, other regional representatives, IOPS delegations and the IOPS President, and Secretariat took part in lively and extremely well received meetings, covering the practical topics of most relevance to the supervisory authorities in the area. The Secretariat would like to thank our hosts - the Insurance Commission of Jordan, the National Pension Commission of Nigeria, and the Superintendente Adjunta de Administradoras Privadas de Fondos de Pensiones of Peru – for their help in organising these events.

The Secretariat also engaged in the establishment, operation, preparation, and organisation of meetings for the Executive and Technical Committees (which met three times during the year) and for the Annual General Meeting of the Governing Membership. The help of the Insurance Commission of Jordan, CONSAR of Mexico and the Financial Services Board of South Africa, and OECD staff in the organisation of these meetings was greatly appreciated.

Support was additionally provided for the Chairmen of the committees.

COOPERATION WITH OTHER INTERNATIONAL BODIES

The IOPS Secretariat continues to work closely with the OECD's Working Party on Private Pensions, in particular on topics such as pension funds' risk-management systems (including alternative investments), ensuring that work was coordinated and synergies gained and any overlaps and duplication in projects avoided.

IOPS was represented at the meeting of the OECD Task Force on Financial Consumer Protection and provided input into the High Level Principles on Financial Consumer Protection and Education, being drafted for the G20.

Additionally, the Secretariat worked towards the extension of the ISSA/IOPS/OECD database on complementary and private pensions, adding new country profiles to the IOPS website.

The IOPS Secretariat continues to coordinate with the IAIS's Pensions Coordination Group and received input into various IOPS projects.

The Secretariat was also in contact with the Secretariat of the FSB, with the objective of strengthening cooperation between the two bodies.

The IOPS continues to work closely with our counterparts in Europe (EIOPA) and Latin America (AIOS).

ADMINISTRATION AND OTHER

The Secretariat continued their work during 2011 to build the IOPS Membership base, contacting and following up with potential Members. The regional workshops in particular proved fertile ground for making new contacts.

Communication and record keeping in relation to existing Members was also undertaken, with the Secretariat striving to ensure that Delegates received documents in time to review them before meetings. Comments and suggestions from Delegates in relation to the on-going projects and reports were also coordinated.

The Secretariat also organised the nomination and election of the IOPS president and half the Executive Committee.

Finally, the Secretariat continued to update and develop the IOPS website, as well as launching and regularly updating social networking groups for IOPS.

PLANS FOR 2012

Secretariat and other project activity can be expected to continue during 2012. It is expected that, in most cases, the Secretariat will maintain its high level of editorial support and analytical contributions to IOPS work and projects during 2012.

A set of good practices on the governance of Pension Supervisory Authorities will be drafted.

Support will also be provided for the other IOPS projects identified in the Programme of Work. This will include analytical input and editing for on-going IOPS project reports and potentially contracting and working with consultants to provide specialized input into selected projects. The Secretariat is also available to commission and edit further papers for the IOPS Working Papers Series.

Upon request, the Secretariat will also take the lead on selected analytical projects and provide support for discussion on recent developments and important events.

The Secretariat will continue to work on the development and update of the joint ISSA/IOPS/OECD complementary private pension database during 2012, improving the range and depth of the regulatory and statistical data available for IOPS Members.

The IOPS has a wide variety of meetings planned for 2012, which will require planning and preparation on the part of the Secretariat - including a back-to-back meeting with the OECD's Working Party on Private Pensions in June and the OECD/IOPS Global Forum on Private Pensions, scheduled to be held in Santiago, Chile in October.

Continued support will be provided to existing Members, from circulating meeting documents to dealing with ad hoc requests for information and assistance. The Secretariat also hope to bring on board a series of new Members during 2012 who have previously expressed interest in the organisation, and will continue to contact other organisations that could benefit from IOPS membership and provide useful input in our continued Programme of Work.

Finally, I would like to thank the IOPS Governing Members for the renewal of the partnership agreement with the OECD for a further three years. We look forward to continuing to provide secretariat support and to working with the IOPS in the future.

Report of the Treasurer

Philip Diamond
IOPS Treasurer

SUBJECT:

IOPS ACCOUNTS AS OF 31 DECEMBER 2010

Dear Governing Members,

The Treasurer reports that during the year ended 31 December 2010 the International Organisation of Pension Supervisors (IOPS) unwound much of our surplus from previous years. This was in line with our budget estimates.

There was a slight decline in membership fees from €356,493.60 in 2009 to €342,479.19. This represented a slight decline in the mix of payments (i.e. more payments of €5,000, fewer of €7,500). Membership fees and interest were the sole sources of income in 2010. Interest earned declined from €4,897.16 to €2,400.75.

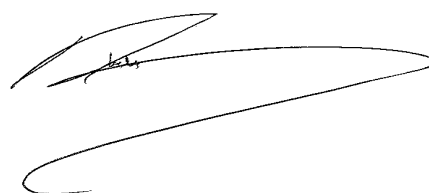

On the cost side, the major expense incurred by the Organisation during 2010 was for the Secretariat support provided by the OECD under the official partnership agreement between the OECD and the IOPS signed in 2005. A detailed description of services provided in 2010 was outlined in the reports provided by the OECD to the Treasurer. The total spend by the Secretariat was in line with budget. Conference and meeting expenses during 2010 amounted to €92,278.40, a rise from €54,843.44 in 2009. This reflected a slightly more expensive mix of meeting locations and the provision of a number of outreach meetings as detailed below. It should be noted that some of the costs from the Sydney meeting will be reimbursed by the OECD in 2011 (and a currency mispayment will also be unwound).

During 2010 the IOPS continued to develop a strong programme of work, held meetings of the Executive and Technical committees in Basel, Paris and Sydney, and the Annual General Meeting and joint OECD/IOPS Global Forum also took place in Sydney.

In addition, regional workshops were held in Istanbul and Warsaw. In recognition of the Organisation's non-profit status, funds built up as surplus during the initial 2004 -2007 period continued to be drawn down for project work during 2010. At its March 2007 meeting the Executive Committee adopted a reserving policy designed to hold a target 20% estimated membership fees as a contingency reserve, to cover uncertainties relating to the timing of receipt and levels of membership fee payments, from which the organisation's main income is derived. In addition, at the same meeting of the Executive Committee, it was agreed to build up an additional reserve amounting to 75,000 Euro over three years to cover potential future event expenditure, such as costs relating to conferences or regional workshop programs. 2010 was the second year of draw down of this additional reserve. The total of the special and contingency reserves held at the end of 2010 was €118,493.

Our net assets at the close of 2010 were €167,066.17. With an operating loss of €73,949.35 recorded over the 2010 year, we may dip below our reserves by the close of 2011. We therefore have recommended to the Executive Committee that an increase in membership fees of 10% in 2012, (be considered for approval by the IOPS Governing Membership at the 2011 AGM), and to maintain a rolling review of the extent of our outreach activities to stabilise our financial position. This would be the first time the membership fees would have increased since the Organisation was created and would help restore our financial stability.

9	RETAINED EARNINGS AND CONTINGENCY RESERVE
	At its March 2007 meeting the Executive Committee resolved to set aside in the accounts of the Organisation a contingency reserve of 20% of membership fees for the year to provide against uncertainties in timing of receipt of income in future years.
	To maintain this figure in light of the reduction of membership income an €2.805.08 was transferred to Retained Earnings
	This amount has been transferred to Retained Earnings and is reflected in an increase to the opening retained earnings figure in the balance sheet.
10	SPECIAL RESERVE
	At the meeting of the Executive Committee on 21st March 2007 it was also agreed to build up an additional reserve amounting to €75,000 over 3 years to cover potential future event expenditure, such as costs related to conferences or regional workshop programs
	This amount was reached in 2009. €25,000 has been released to cover costs during 2010
11	While the IOPS is a non-tax paying organisation and accordingly would not normally accumulate a surplus or reserves, the Organisation was newly founded in 2004 with some uncertainty as to membership revenue and expenses in the first few years.
	Accordingly, the decision was taken to build up some initial reserves which were to be drawn down over the coming years, spending on increased staff support and other expert and professional input into IOPS projects
